LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Star in its local columns of Wedne day last states that, just previous to the departure of the last train of cars on Tuesday evening, a man named Sullivan, suddenly fell in a fit, and cut his face quite badly. It further states that it was rumored that he had been assaulted and knocked down, but upon a careful enquiry by the officers it was ascertained that such was not the fact. Now, facts in the case are as follows: For some tim previous to the departure of the last train for Bal-timore, Mr. William Sullivan, who resides in the Northen Liberties, and who was about to go to Baltimore to witness the election of Wednesday, was standing in company with several other gentlemen of his acquaintance about the depos, and while standing near the corner of C st., and New Jersey avenue, near the gateway leading into the baggage-room, one of the persons in company with him observed some persons whom he recog-nized as members or adherents of the "States Hose Company," watching Mr. Sullivan and those with him very closely; and judging from their actions that they were premeditating an attack, he advised Mr. Sullivan to go into the cars and remain there until they started; and in a moment or two afterwards left Mr. Sullivan and started out C street. Just after starting he heard a noise in the direction from which he had come, and, on turning in that direction, he saw this same party who had approached Mr. Sullivan from behind struck him a blow on the side of the head with a slung shot or billy and knocked him down, and was then beating him in the most outrageous manner. This same person who witnessed those pro ceedings, saw a number of police officers and guards standing on or near the corner and witness ing the whole affair, and states positively that they made no effort to stop the assault, or even made a motion towards the party, until they had left. In addition to this, another gentleman who had been conversing with Sullivan a few moments before, saw the assault made, and heard a certain ex-member of the guard, who was standing with the police remark, "Stand back, gentlemen, and give the man air. He has had a fit, I saw him

"WE WANT YOUR HACK!"-It is becoming notorious in certain quarters, that every night and often in the day time, the hackmen are approached, while on the different stands on the lower portion of the Avenue, by parties who infest that portion of the city, with demands for their hacks, in which to be conveyed to different sections of the city, and when the hackmen comply with their demands, after being driven through different parts of the city, they get out, refusing to pay anything; and when remor with they draw their revolvers and bowie knives, and commence directly threatening the lives of those whom they have cheated, or, as they themselves style it, "bilked." In case of refusal on the part of the hackmen to go with them, the same recourse is had to their murderous weapons to intimidate them and force them into compliance. A fine state of affairs, truly!

More Rowdyism.—On the arrival of the o'clock train of cars from Baltimore on Thursday evening, a young man named George Bell, who had been to Baltimore, left the cars at the junction of H street, in order to avoid any difficulty that might occur at the depot, and in order to save time in getting home, as he lived in the Northern Liberties. He had gone but a short distance when he was set upon, by a crowd of men who were lurking in the neighborhood, apparently for the purpose of attacking persons going in that direction, and beaten and kicked in an outrageous manner. He had a short musket snapped in his face, which, fortunately for his life, did not explode; had it been discharged it must inevitably have blown his head to atoms. After escaping from his murderous assailants he started ro run as well as he was able, when the musket was discharged at him, besides severe other shots, from pistols, none of which, however, took effect.

We learn that upon the arrival of the 7 o'clock train of cars last evening, an assault was made upon a young man named Durkin Longdon, who had just arrived from the neighborhood of Laurel Factory, where he had been at work for some time past, by a crowd of men who had assemble in the neighborhood of depot, and beaten in most shameful and brut nner, his head being mashed in with a brick ... s.one; and not satisfie with this outrage and attempt to kill, they had to add to it the crime of theft, having robbed him of the sum of forty dollars, all the money he had in his possession, and which he had saved from his hard earnings while at work at Laurel.

TURTLE Soup .- By reference to the advertisement of Mr. J. T. Halleck, in to-day's paper, it will be seen that he will serve up some fine turtle soup at his restaurant to-day. We advise all who are fond of good eating and drinking to give him a call.

We invite attention to the advertisement of Messrs, Crittenden and Hawes. Their gallery is well worthy a visit, and contains admirable likenesses of many distinguished personages The Patent Ambrotypes are really a beautiful and astonishing invention, exhibiting the most perfect likenesses we ever beheld.

HISTORY OF A CANNON BALL .- At the con mencement of the action on board the Presi dent frigate, a ball (an 18 lb. shot) from th dent frigate, a ball (an 18 lb. shot) from the Belvidere came over the waist cloths of the President, and such was the force of the ball that it actually cut off, without throwing them down, the muzzle of several of the muskets (left there by the marines) from six to eight inches in length, killed one marine, took off the wrist of one midshipman, Mr. Montgomery—killed another, Mr. Bird, together with the quarter-gunner, and finally lodged upon the deck, and was taken below by the narrator of this, and shown the lieutenant. upon the deck, and was taken below by the narrator of this, and shown the lieutenant, Mr. Dallas, who took it in his hand and wrote on it with chalk, "Cousin, I have received your present and will return it again;"—clapped it in the gun himself, and fired the piece; and it is a remarkable fact that it actually killed several of the officers and men on board the Belvidere, and finally lodged in the cabin of that vessel, and was afterwards hung up in the Belvidere's cabin as a globe during the war.—Portland Standard.

"On Gov. Walker's return from the precinct of Oxforth he halted at Lawrence, and taking out of his portfolio a large roll of paper, said to the crowd that he would show them a curiosity, if they promised not to destroy it. He then unrolled the returns of the precinct of Oxford, (in Kansas,) which contained one thousands ix hundred and one names, all written in the same handwriting, and which measured exactly fifty four feet in length! All the names, except one hundred and twenty, were copied from 'Williams's Cincinnati Directory,' those commencing with the same letter following each other as regularly as they do upon the pages of that book!"

MINOT'S LEDGE LIGHT-HOUSE.—There is now in process of construction a light-house for Minot's Ledge, to be made of granite, upon the principle of the famous Eddystone. The granite blocks are prepared, dove-tailed, and fitted to one another previous to being placed in their final resting place, upon a small island close at hand, purchased by the government for that purpose.

The bell was tolled, and the only flag in town—that which belonged to the tavern—was hung union down for twenty-four tavern—was hung union down for twenty-four hours. His praise was in every one's mouth, though why they praised him none could say, except that he was worth a great deal of money. This was before Mrs. Partington moved from Beanville. "We have lost a great man, ma'am," said the minister, calling upon her; "so portly, so public spirited, so—so—rich." "Ah, yes," responded the estimable dame, with a tear of regret in her eye, "his goodness was past finding out—it was," said she, raising her hand, as if beckoning down a large word, by which to express herself loudly, "it was infinitesimal, and his right hand never knew what his left hand did, nor anybody else for that matter. He was such an excellent man." The minister laughed at the infinitesimal goodness, but he saw how kindly it was intended, and said nothing.

"Victoria, Queen of England, is a safer model for our women, if they must go across the Atlantic and into palaces for their exemplars. She is a sound-hearted, well-behaved, much-beloved, kind woman. She sympathizes with the poor, and binds up broken, burdened hearts.

"Her children she rears with care, training them in the knowledge that they are only flesh and blood like the rest. But then Victoria isn't fast enough, dashing enough, dressy enough, for our women. She really don't ever set a single fashion. And we firmly believe that some of our matrons and maidens had rather go with Eugenie to a bull-fight than with Victoria to a cottage, where there is suffering to be relieved and misery to be driven

THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF IT. - Married, THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF IT.—Married, in Litchfield, Ky., on the 12th ultimo, by Judge Val. Yates, John Robert Wells to Miss Emeline Jeanes, of Grayson. The bride is 23 years old, 36 inches high, and weighs 45 pounds. The bridegroom is 6 feet high, weighs 160 pounds, and is 35 years of age. The parents of the bride are wealthy.

Jonathan Wakefield, a soldier of the Revo lution, died in Newport, New Hampshire, on the 14th of October, in his 97th year. The Spectator says: "Mr. Wakefield was born in Sutton, Massachusetts, March 20, 1761, and removed to this town in 1779, where, with the exception of some years' absence in the Revo-lutionary war, he has since resided. He was of the true Revolutionary stock, his father having been killed by the British at Dorches-ter Point in 1776.

SAN FRANCISCO.-It is said that, in cons quence of the reform brought about by the Vigilance Committee in San Francisco, that city has been governed during the past year at an expense of about $250,000, against an expense the previous year of $1,500,000, a sum six times as large.

EBONY, -There is a fine touch of ebony humor in the reply once made in our hearing, by an old negro wood-sawyer in New York—a member of the "Church of the Colored Messiah" in that city, where he was born and brought up—to a stranger who inquired of him if he knew where St. Paul's church was. "Does know where St. Paul's Church is?" I jis with I had as many half dollars as I know where St. Paul's Church is?" A Religious Rior.—The Montreal Pays speaks of a "religious" riot at St. Jean Chrysostone, between two parties of Irish, at the annual fair at that place last week. Sticks, stones and pitchforks are said to have been used, and many serious injuries received. Ideas differ, but we would call that an irreligious riot.

The best definition of weakness we have ever heard is contained in the wag's query to his wife, when she gave him some very thin chicken broth, (what the French denominate "soup meagre,") he asked her—
"Could'nt you try to coax that chicken just to wade through the soup once more!"

A pleasant writer in the Congregasionalist says: "God grant that the spring time which re-leaves the trees, may also relieve the mer-chants, and make both elms and men again green and flourishing!"

HIGH FALUTIN .- The Cambridge Chronicle says cattle speculators in the Cambridge and Brighton markets, tremble before the pres-ent financial blast, "like a mariner in mid ocean without rudder or compass." Why didn't he say they trembled like an old cow with the staggers. John T. Gilman, editor of the Bath Organ Maine, says, after extensive traveling in both regions, that more corn, wheat, beans, peas, buckwheat, barley, potatoes, &c., are raised to the arce in the East than the West. The raising requires more labor in the Eastern States, but more attention is paid to fertilizing.—Buffalo Com. Adv.

Ma. Feston: Originating from Virginia stock, and related to a large number of inhabitants of that State, I feel an interest in everything calculated to promote the prosperity of the Old Dominion; and hope you may obtain many subscribers therein, as the circulation of the newspaper is the necessary concomitant of material advancement.

I notice, in a late publication, the fact men-tioned, that a number of Pennsylvanians had taken their departure for one of the mountain counties, to settle there. This, with other items of the sort lately rumored, will please many Virginians who think that population is needed there, and are not infected with that prejudice against outsiders from the north of Mason & Dixon's line, which is based on ig-Mason & Dixon's line, which is based on ignorance, though attributed to other reasons, and is as inconsistent with Democratic theory, as Chinese exclusiveness can be with the advancement of religion and political science.

Sir, Virginia, though the first of the Union to be settled, and having advantages unsurpassed by any other State on the Atlantic slope, has been dropping behind gradually. The cause is in the people; they do not know their wealth, nor their ignorance.

A NERVOUS TRAVELER.—On a recent trip west I had taken my seat in the baggage car for the purpose of indulging in a "Havana," when a nervous individual entered the car and commenced overhauling the baggage. The baggage master, after eyeing him a moment, accosted him rather grufily—

"What's wanting, sir?" "I'm looking for my trunk," answered the nervous man.

"I will take care of your trunk, sir, that is my business," retorted the baggage master.

"O, I am aware of that, sir, but I would always much rather keep my trunk under my eye!"

"Well, then, sir, you should have been born an elephant, and then you would have your trunk under your eye the whole time!"

The nervous man vamosed suddenly.

There has not, indeed, been any relief to the general stagnation of business; we have not a sale to report for the week, in cotton or wool or print cloths, and the reduction of labor is still going on, and hardly any engagements are entered into, but the difficulties of raising money to meet old ones have somewhat

FILLIBUSTERISM AND THE MONETARY CRISIS .-"Hard times" affect the fillibuster bubble severely. The immigration this year will reach full 25,000, and probably 30,000. Two-thirds are women and children."

THE FORT SNELLING SWINDLE.—The St. Paul Minnesotian promises a rich development touching the Administration swindle in that vicinity. It says:

"Early in the next session of Congress : committee of investigation on the Fort Snell-ing operation will be moved by a Democratic member from one of the States below.
